

LEGAL SEPARATION WITH CHILDREN

STARTING A CASE

YOU CAN USE THIS PACKET IF ALL THIS IS TRUE:

- You want a legal separation.
- You do not have a covenant marriage.
- You or your spouse live in Arizona.
- You and your spouse have at least one child under age 18 or in high school, or the wife is pregnant by the husband.
- Your children will have lived in Arizona for at least the six months before you start your case, or they have lived in Arizona since birth.
- Your spouse is not on active duty with the military.

Arizona Rules of Family Law Procedure: The Arizona Rules of Family Law Procedure describe the procedures and forms required in family law cases. You can read the Rules at the Law Library or online at <http://government.westlaw.com/linkedslice/default.asp?SP=AZR-1000>.

WARNING: Depending on the circumstances of your case, the Arizona Rules of Family Law Procedure may require you to complete procedures and forms not covered in this packet. You are required to read and follow all of the rules. If you do not, the court may impose sanctions on you. At a minimum, you must read and understand Section II, on Pleadings and Motions, Section VII, on Discovery and Disclosure, and Rule 92, on Civil Contempt and Sanctions for Non-Compliance with a Court Order.

Before signing a court document or getting involved with a court case, it's important to see an attorney to make sure you understand your legal rights and responsibilities. The Self-Help Center has information on finding an attorney.

INSTRUCTIONS

Protecting Your Address: If the other party has committed or threatened to commit physical violence against you or your children, and you do not want the other party to know your address: 1) use a post office box on all your court forms or 2) see Rule 7, Arizona Rules of Family Law Procedure, about how to protect your address. See the Self-Help Center packet Order of Protection if you need a court to order the other party to stay away from you.

STEP 1: MAKE SURE YOUR SPOUSE WILL NOT OBJECT TO A LEGAL SEPARATION

If so, the court will not grant one. You may file for divorce instead.

STEP 2: READ THE FAMILY COURT SERVICES INFORMATION SHEET

STEP 3: READ THIS INFORMATION ABOUT GROUP HEALTH BENEFITS

Continuing group health benefits: In many cases, federal law lets an employee's spouse and children temporarily continue group health benefits under the employer's plan after the employee and spouse are legally separated or divorced. To qualify for this extension, you or your spouse must notify the employer of your separation or divorce within 60 days of the court's signing the Decree that ends your case. The beneficiary must pay the entire premium of the continued coverage; the employer makes no contribution.

Converting group health benefits: In divorce cases, Arizona law lets an employee's spouse and children convert group health benefits under the employer's plan into their name. If you decide later to convert the legal separation into a divorce, you must serve a Notice of Right to Convert Health Insurance on your spouse when you file divorce papers. This form is in the Self-Help Center divorce packets.

STEP 4: DECIDE ON PARENTING TIME AND LEGAL DECISION-MAKING ABOUT THE CHILDREN

You will enter this information on the Petition later in these instructions.

Joint Legal Decision-Making: Both parents must want joint legal decision-making and agree on all major issues regarding parenting time, education, religion, and medical decisions, including, but not limited to:

- Enrollment or termination of enrollment in a particular school or school program.
- Advancing or holding back in school.
- Authorizing sex education for the child.
- Arranging or permitting regularly occurring extracurricular activities for the child.
- Beginning or ending the regular practice of a religion.
- Arranging for child care providers for long term and/or after school child care.
- Selecting non-emergency medical, dental, and/or psychological services.

- Authorizing the child's driver's license.
- Authorizing the purchase of an automobile for the child.
- Authorizing employment for the child.
- Authorizing the child's marriage.
- Authorizing the child's enlistment into the Armed Forces.
- Passport application for the child.
- Authorizing the child's giving blood.

The court will not order joint legal decision-making if the court determines there has been significant domestic violence. Joint legal decision-making does not necessarily mean equal parenting time and does not change either parent's duty to pay child support.

Sole Legal Decision-Making: The parent with sole legal decision-making will make the major decisions in the children's lives. Parents still must exchange health care, school, and other important information about the children, and the parent without legal decision-making can usually get the information directly from the medical providers and schools.

Parenting Time: For both joint and sole legal decision-making, come up with a schedule for the child to spend time with each parent. The guide called Planning for Parenting Time can help you find a schedule that's right for your family. You can find the guide at the Law Library, or online at <http://tinyurl.com/planningforparentingtime>. If unsupervised parenting time would endanger the children, you may ask for supervised or no parenting time for the other parent. There must be good reasons for these extreme restrictions, such as sexual crimes, child abuse or domestic violence, persistent drug or alcohol abuse, or serious mental or physical problems that make parenting risky or impossible. (The court will fine a parent who falsely says these reasons exist.) If you request supervised parenting time, decide who will supervise and who will pay for the supervision if payment is necessary.

STEP 5: IF YOU WANT JOINT LEGAL DECISION-MAKING: FILL OUT THE JOINT LEGAL DECISION-MAKING AGREEMENT

STEP 6: FILL OUT THE CHILD SUPPORT INFORMATION FORM

Fill in all the blanks to the best of your knowledge.

STEP 7: READ THE NOTICE REGARDING COMMUNITY DEBTS

STEP 8: DECIDE HOW TO DIVIDE PROPERTY AND DEBTS

You will enter this information on the Petition later in these instructions.

Community Property and Debts: In general, community property is property (other than a gift or inheritance to one party) that you and your spouse acquire after you were married and before one spouse serves divorce papers on the other. See the Petition for a list of types of community property. One type of community property is retirement benefits (pension/retirement fund/profit sharing/stock plans/401k). Division of retirement benefits is a complicated area of the law. After the judge divides the retirement benefits, you will have to contact an attorney, accountant, or company representative to get the documents needed to access the retirement monies.

In general, community debts are debts you and your spouse acquire after you were married and before one spouse serves divorce papers on the other, no matter who spent the money. Generally, the court will order a fair division and will not give most or all of the property or debts to one spouse. If you and/or your spouse still owe money on a piece of property, the court will probably give that debt to the same spouse who gets that property. You may ask that real property be sold and the proceeds divided between you and your spouse. Community property and debts you fail to list on the Petition will be considered still owned or owed by both you and your spouse.

Separate Property and Debts: In general, separate property is property you or your spouse acquire before you were married, after one spouse serves divorce papers on the other, or as an inheritance or gift to one party. Separate property may become commingled community property in some circumstances.

In general, separate debts are debts you or your spouse acquire before you were married or after one spouse serves divorce papers on the other.

The court usually will confirm that your separate property and debts are yours and your spouse's separate property and debts are your spouse's.

NOTICE REGARDING COMMUNITY DEBTS (ARS 25-318)

In your property settlement agreement or decree of dissolution or legal separation, the court may assign responsibility for certain community debts to one spouse or the other. Please be aware that a court order that does this is binding on the spouses only and does not necessarily relieve either of you from your responsibility for these community debts. These debts are matters of contract between both of you and your creditors (such as banks, credit unions, credit card issuers, finance companies, utility companies, medical providers and retailers).

Since your creditors are not parties to this court case, they are not bound by court orders or any agreements you and your spouse reach in this case. On request, the court may impose a lien against the separate property of a spouse to secure payment of debts that the court orders that spouse to pay.

You may want to contact your creditors to discuss your debts as well as the possible effects of your court case on your debts. To assist you in identifying your creditors, you may obtain a copy of your spouse's credit report by making a written request to the court for an order requiring a credit reporting agency to release the report to you. Within thirty days after receipt of a request from a spouse who is a party to a dissolution of marriage or legal separation action, which includes the court and case number of the action, creditors are required by law to provide information as to the balance and account status of any debts for which the requesting spouse may be liable to the creditor. You may wish to use the following form, or one that is similar, to contact your creditors:
